

Buddhist Symposium
Saturday, October 29, 2011
From 12 noon to 5 pm

Women in Shin Buddhism

A History of Devout Buddhist Practitioners

Speakers:
Prof. Mark Unno
Rev./Dr. Shoyo Taniguchi
Mrs. Sumi Tanabe

Please join us as we explore and honor the women of Jodo Shinshu and the important role they played in helping to propagate and establish Shinran Shonin's teaching in Japan. Our speakers include Prof. Mark Unno, from the University of Oregon, Rev./Dr. Shoyo Taniguchi a Jodo Shinshu minister, and Mrs. Sumi Tanabe a modern day Shin Buddhist who is working and practicing the nembutsu.

Our moderator is Dr. Linda Engstrom who received her tokudo ordination this year.

If you ever wanted to know about Shin Buddhism and why it fits so nicely into our every life this is the symposium you should not miss. Plus it is free, how better can that be.

Seating is limited early reservations is recommended. To make your reservation or if you have questions please email: Hoshin Seki at admin@americanbuddhiststudycenter.org
